Which is the Better Plan?
Some people mark up the price of goods before the holidays, when people want to purchase, and mark them down after when nobody wants them. We have marked all Christmas goods down in order to close them out when they are wanted. Everything sold this week at the lowest possible price at the "Domestic Art Rooms," Broad and West Park Streets, Newark.—Adv.

Marshall & Ball, the Broad Street Newark clothiers, will keep their store open until 9 o'clock P. M. the coming week.—Adv.

MONTCLAIR MILITARY ACADEMY, 776 BLOOMFIELD AVENUE.

Cadets, who graduate from this Academy, are admitted without examinations to many leading colleges, as Cornell, Amherst and University of Pennsylvania. Boys six years of age are taken and prepared for college or business in the shortest time and in the most thorough manner. Time is wasted following the iron bound grades essential to the Public Schools. Classes are small and the needs of the individual are always considered.

MRS. SMITH

Was at our store last week and bought one of those pure water white

DIAMONDS!

She couldn't understand why we could sell them so reasonably until she saw that we carried the largest assortment in the State, and imported large invoices. In purchasing such quantities we obtained the large discounts of which our customers receive the benefit.

It's the same way with

Watches, Silverware and Jewelry.

Many of the designs for this year are exceedingly unique.

A Successful Business Man.

Liberal advertising, close attention to business, and ability to purchase goods to the best advantage, has made the business career of shoe dealer Philip Shoenthal a successful one in this town. It is now three years since he opened his store here. Wise ones shook their heads and said it was a doubtful venture. Shoenthal was not easily scared and by his pluck and energy he soon worked his way to the front, and now leads the boot and shoe trade of the town. He thoroughly understands his business. His show window is always attractive. He makes a shrewd use of all the "catchy" points in the trade. Every novelty in the shoe trade is always found at his store. Aside from all this it is Shoenthal's prices that are the result of his success. They cannot be beat even in Newark. Mr. Shoenthal is an enterprising citizen of the town and takes an active interest in all that pertains to its welfare and progress. He advocates a sewerage system, electric lights, bonds for more good roads, a cheaper water supply, and other progressive movements. Mr. Shoenthal is liberal and ready in his response to all appeals for charity. A case was called to his attention during the past week when through the illness of a well-known mechanic in this town the family were in hard straits. Shoenthal gave each of the children, four in number, a pair of shoes. Such men desire success.

Death of Mrs. David F. Lyall.

Mrs. Hattie Francis, wife of David P. Lyall of Franklin Street and daughter of William Francis, Esq., of Race Street, died in New York at six o'clock yesterday morning of heart failure, at the age of thirty-three years. Deceased had a large circle of friends and was beloved by all who knew her. She was active in church and Sunday-school work, and was a life-long member of the Park M. E. Church, where she had a large class of scholars. She leaves no children. Funeral services will be held from the M. E. Church, Tuesday, December 27, at 1:30 P. M. Interment will be made in the Bloomfield Cemetery.

Death of Rev. H. W. Seibert's Son.

George Seibert, eldest son of the Rev. Henry W. Seibert of the German Presbyterian Church, died at the parsonage on Park Avenue last Friday morning of diabetes, aged nine years and nine months. Funeral services were held in the church on Saturday afternoon. The service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. F. E. Hauser of the seminary. The singing class of the German Theological Seminary, conducted by Prof. Rowe, sang at the grave.

Mr. Johnson Tumbled.

Charles H. Johnson, the popular Treasurer of the Truck Company, had a narrow escape from serious injury on Tuesday evening. Mr. Johnson had seated himself near the edge of the steps descending from the parlor to the truck room, and during a burst of merriment he fell backward down the steps. He was somewhat bruised by the fall.

A Child Run Over.

Laura, the five-year-old daughter of Theodore Mix of No. 35 New Street, was run over and severely injured while crossing Broad Street at New Street on her way home from the German Sunday-school last Sunday afternoon by a carriage containing a lady and gentleman. The wheels of the carriage passed over her foot at the ankle and her head was cut. The occupants of the carriage never stopped, but drove away at great speed. The child was picked up by her uncle and carried to her home. Dr. Ward was called and dressed her wounds.

The W. C. T. U.

Unloading Sale! Extraordinary Bargains in OVERCOATS.

We have no desire to carry over to next season, and therefore will cut prices at once rather than wait until January, as we have too much stock on account of the backward season. Overcoats of our own make reduced 15, 20, 25, 30 and 40 per cent.

The prices are spellbinders; we intend them to be. We've got to get this unloading sale over quick. The stiffest winter gets the less we feel like selling these goods without profit. It's an unloading sale that will have a long memory and help to make an early comfortable winter for you and thousands besides.
